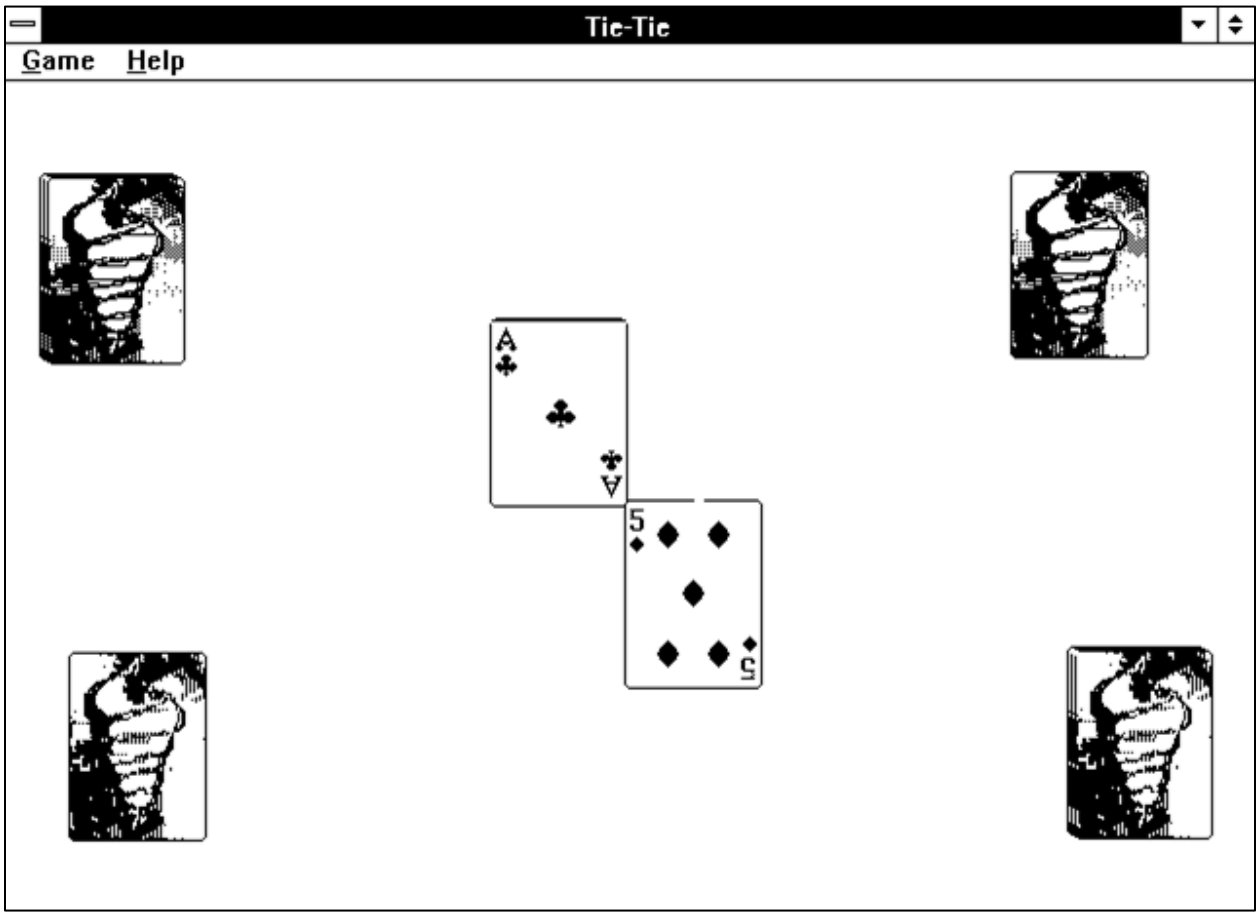
TIE-TIE

A Manual



What is Tie-Tie?

Tie-Tie is a simple card game somewhat similar to Hearts or Go Fish but with some differences. There is a reason for this game to be named “Tie-Tie” which will be explained later. This game also uses Jokers. The game requires only two players with just one deck of cards. The standard French-suited deck of 52 cards (with two Jokers) is the main requirement as usual.

Tie-Tie has no traditional scoring system but a system of numbers.

Aim of the game?

The aim of the game is to win all the cards. The one who loses his deck of cards will be the loser.

How to play?

The game starts with a shuffled deck of 54 (with Jokers) cards which is divided in half (27 cards) for each player. First, one player places the first card of his deck on the table. The other player also has to place the first card of his deck on the table. The one who has a higher number value of his card gets the other card from the other player.

If both players put the same number value of number cards (pip cards) or court cards (face cards) but of different suits each, it’s a ‘Tie-Tie’ (you get it) and each player has to drop another four cards each and the one with the highest points gets all the ten cards.

The game continues until one person loses all his cards and the other player gets all the cards.

Important to know, the Aces have the highest number of the entire deck.

Jokers are considered to have no value (0 value).
